(Florence, SC) Heritage Digital, A SATIS Company, announces completion of a new Internet site for the OsteoArthritis Centers of America (OA Centers). Operated by US Physical Therapy, Incorporated of Houston, Texas, the OA Centers specialize in the treatment of Osteoarthritis (OA), Degenerative Joint Disease (DJD) and other musculoskeletal conditions.

The new site, at www.OACenters.com, provides educational material as well as information about services offered by the OsteoArthritis Centers of America.

Arthritis, DJD and chronic pain conditions impact over 100 million people in the US, accounts for 25% of all visits to primary care physicians and one-half of all anti-inflammatory prescriptions written in the United States. The OA Centers provides non-surgical, FDA approved treatments for pain in the knees, hips, shoulders and back and evidence-based manual physical therapy for osteoarthritis, orthopedic injuries and other diagnoses.

A unique specialty program, Intra Articular Joint Program, or IAJP, is a non-surgical approach for treating osteoarthritis of the knee. OA Centers works with physicians using IAJP, a clinically proven, non-surgical treatment for individuals diagnosed with osteoarthritis of the knee. The program produces above average outcomes and helps delay or eliminate the need for costly and painful knee replacement surgery.

The new web presence for the OA Centers provide an excellent place to begin a search for treatment those with musculoskeletal conditions, including osteoarthritis and Degenerative Joint Disease. The site provides answers to frequently asked questions about degenerative joint diseases as well as a library of medical terms and links to other useful resources.”
